DOWN UNDER COUSINS GIVE GOOD EXAMPLE

By J. W. MARCHBANK

I am in receipt of a remarkably interesting catalogue of the yearling sales that are on this week at the Newmarket Stables of William Inglis & Son, Ltd., at the Randwick course, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia. The well bound book of more than six hundred pages contains a wealth of material about the thoroughbred, not only of Australasia, but of the entire world. For, as every well informed fan knows, there is no such thing as the English thoroughbred, the American thoroughbred, or the Australian thoroughbred; it is simply the thoroughbred, the highest type of light horse ever developed by man.

It was especially pleased to see that there are a number of stakes down below the equator of the kind I am starting, specifically the Tanforan Futurity to be run for the first time in the fall of 1938. Many of the colts and fillies offered at Randwick are eligible to produce stakes scheduled for the important tracks of New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland and other states of the federation.

The value of young runners is increased materially by their eligibility to two year old events: The way to make them eligible is to either name the sire and dame prior to the foaling or the foal some months later. Stakes, such as my track's Futurity, are not only the most "sporting" of all race but encourage, as no other race, the breeding of horses of class. The Tanforan Futurity, as announced some time ago, will close August 15 of this year for the running of 1938.

Racing is a permanent institution in Australasia and why?

Because a broad foundation is furnished by spreading the proper kind of propaganda. There is a good kind of propaganda, as well as bad, and it is my earnest desire to invariably spread the right kind, such as messages about the importance of such events as the Tanforan Futurity.

A VIVID DRAMA OF A CROOK, A BOY AND A DOG

"Tough Guy" Retains Rare Human Quality Amid Its Excitement

Crashing to a new high in adventure, and bringing to the screen the latest and most unusual trio, "Tough Guy," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's amazing story of the secret service, is the new attraction coming to the Daly City Theater, Sunday and Monday, April 19 and 20.

Its three characters are a hunted crook, a boy and a dog. Jackie Cooper, of "The Champ," Joseph Calleia, of "Riffraff," and Rin-Tin-Tin, Jr., police dog actor, are the three comrades amid the hectic pursuit and hair's-breadth escapes in a chase with the secret service.

Joseph Calleia and Jackie Cooper in "Tough Guy"

Jackie's role is his most "grown up" to date, as a youngster who runs away to save his pet dog, accidentally falls in with the crook, unknowing becomes his comrade, and figures in a breathless series of adventures, in which the hunted man finds regeneration through the comradeship of the youth and the faithful animal.

Interesting character work is done by Harvey Stephens as chief of the government men; Jean Hersholt, as the old veterinarian; Robert Greig, as the comical butler; Mischa Auer, as the mysterious Oriental gangster; Robert Warwick, as the father, and William Tannen, Edward Pawley and others in an excellent cast.

Also John Boles and Gladys Swarthout, in "Rose of the Rancho."

The winners of the letter writing contest, "Why I Patronize My Neighborhood Theater," will be announced from the stage Monday night, April 20.

STATEMENT BY ED CAVAGNARO

To the People of Daly City:

I am deeply grateful for the honor that you bestowed upon me on Tuesday last, and I wish to assure you that as a member of your City Council I shall at all times endeavor to discharge duties and obligations of that office faithfully and efficiently.

I wish in particular to express my sincerest appreciation to those who so generously gave of their time and energy during the campaign. It was their continued support and strenuous efforts that made the result possible.

Their number makes it impossible for me to name them in this letter, but I want each and every one who so aided my cause to know that I am not forgetful of their loyalty and that I will need their continued support and co-operation during the coming four years.

I recall reading somewhere the following statement: "Those who are the least governed are the best governed." That may quite possibly be true, but I prefer that Americanized version, "Those who govern themselves are the best governed." I hope that during my term on the council I will be able to demonstrate the truth of that statement and by my truly representing and reflecting the views of the people themselves the government of the community will again be vested in their own hands.

In closing I wish to again thank the people for their confidence in me and assure them that I shall never knowingly betray that confidence.

Sincerely,
EDMUND T. CAVAGNARO.

WISE GUESSERS SHOOT WIDE OF MARK IN TUESDAY'S ELECTION

Overwhelming Majorities Are Rolled Up By Winners In Contest For Municipal Posts Here.

Enthusiastic throngs of workers turned out, Tuesday of this week, to battle for the rival candidates for city offices, voted on that day.

While the election was probably one of the most exciting and bitterly contested in the history of this municipality, everything went off in a quiet and orderly manner.

Five men were contesting for the two seats to be filled on the City Council and two candidates, a man and a woman, vied for honors in the tangle for City Clerk.

The election brought on the largest number of electors ever to cast their ballots for city officials in this municipality.

John J. Fahey (incumbent) and Edmund T. Cavagnaro, a new comer in the political field, were elected to posts on the City Council of Daly City by the largest majorities ever before rolled up by any candidates for this office when a contest was staged.

The losers in the list were A. J. Gaggero, Dr. F. P. Callsen and George F. Wheeler, the latter of whom trailed far behind the field.

In the struggle for office of City Clerk, B. C. Ross (incumbent) easily outclassed his opponent, Margaret Pettigrew.

A. L. Stockton was unopposed for the post of treasurer and polled the largest number of votes registered for any office.

Following is the number of votes cast for each candidate for the various offices:

For City Council—John J. Fahey, 1770; Edmund T. Cavagnaro, 1717; A. J. Gaggero, 1339; Dr. F. P. Callsen, 1286; G. F. Wheeler, 86.

For City Clerk—B. C. Ross, 2122; Margaret Pettigrew, 730.

For City Treasurer—A. L. Stockton (unopposed), 2256.

A pleasing feature of this election was the fact that large numbers of our younger citizens displayed an active and lively interest in the outcome. This, indeed, is a healthy sign and bodes good for the progress and development of any community.

Now that the people have expressed in no uncertain terms, by their ballots, their desire for a new deal in city administration affairs let us go on to progress and the accomplishment of bigger and better things so that we may make our municipality a better Daly City in which to reside and rear our families.

We hope that this contest has ended in a better understanding and more harmonious feeling among all our citizens.

TWO WOMEN MEET DEATH AS AUTO AND TRACKLESS TROLLEY COLLIDE

Daly City Resident And Passenger Crushed To Death And Others Seriously Injured.

A Daly City woman was killed in a collision between a trackless trolley car and an automobile in San Francisco, last Saturday evening. The accident occurred at Eighth and Harrison streets. The woman, who was crushed to death, was Mrs. Ethel Sheldon, 38, of Templeton avenue and Winchester street.

The Sheldon's moved to Daly City from San Francisco only a few weeks ago.

The driver of the trackless trolley, William Moore, 143 Pierce street, was arrested by police on a charge of reckless driving. The officers claimed he must have been operating the vehicle at a high rate of speed, as Mrs. Sheldon's machine was struck broadside and was carried 50 feet from the scene of the accident, where it stopped. The auto was bent nearly double by the impact.

Mrs. Sheldon, who was at the wheel of her car, had as a passenger Elmer McQuinn, 50, of Palo Alto, who was crushed to death. Mrs. Mary Wofford, 65, Mrs. Sheldon's mother, and Louis Schaltz of 575 Eddy Street, were also passengers.

Mrs. Wofford, according to the report given by attending physicians, is near death from a possible fracture of the skull, broken right hip and knee and internal injuries. Mr. Schatz, a retired San Francisco fireman, suffered a possible broken shoulder and cut scalp.

Moore, the driver of the trolley, and Martin Grealish, 4518 Eighteenth street, San Francisco, the only passenger in the trackless vehicle, escaped uninjured.

DALY CITY VOTERS GET FAHEY THANKS

Fellow Citizens:

I am indeed appreciative of the vote of confidence given me by the people of Daly City. They demonstrated by that vote that they realized the sincerity of my motives, and that any mistakes I may have made in the course of my four years on the council were honest mistakes of judgment.

The high feeling and tension that are often encountered at election time should now be forgotten. It is my earnest desire to co-operate fully with all the people of the community, and to represent all of the people. By working together in harmony and accord it should not be difficult to make the next four years a period of progress and advancement.

To the many friends, who worked so hard and well in my behalf, I want to express my sincerest gratitude. In return for their efforts I can only assure them that I will perform the duties of the office entrusted to me to the best of my ability.

I believe that the voters of Daly City on last Tuesday showed by their vote that the platform outlined by Mr. Cavagnaro and myself met with their whole-hearted approval. It shall be my constant endeavor to secure for them the improvements contained therein.

Sincerely,
JOHN J. FAHEY.

SCOUTERS TO MEET AT CITY HALL TUESDAY

Campaign Plans To Be Laid By Boy Scout Leaders For New Activities

Meeting with the Daly City leaders of Boy Scout work, Scout Field Executive Clyde Pearson of the San Francisco Area will confer with them on Tuesday evening, April 21, in the council chambers, Daly City Hall, to plan a campaign to enlist the support of the public in carrying on the activities of this national organization in the local district.

Direction of the active boy development in Daly City is in the hands of three organized troops, Numbers 148 and 149, meeting in the City Hall, and Number 151, in the social hall of the Presbyterian Church on Evergreen and Hanover.

A new troop is now being formed, under the sponsorship of the Nazarene Church on Vista Grande.

The Boy Scout movement, by its program of camping and outdoor life, through all of which the ideal of the Scout Law and Oath is stressed, builds character and trains in citizenship.

This is accomplished by a positive emphasis on "directed boy activity" culminating in a vocational program which enables the boy to decide for himself what vocation he is best fitted for.

From the history of the flag learned by the Scout in entering the movement as a "tenderfoot" Scout until the achievement of the rank of "Eagle Scout," the highest honor in the movement; fidelity to those principles of duty to "God and Country" are enjoined.

Living the Scout Oath, "On my honor, I will do my best to do my duty, to God and my Country, and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight," is a major requirement of Scouting.

Two Lovely Blouses For Your New Suit

1850-B

Blouses have to go a long way toward giving the tailored and mannish suits a sweet and feminine appearance. The model at the top is a new lingerie blouse made of madonna blue crepe de chine and trimmed with tiny crystal buttons. Soft puff sleeves tightly banded and a fluffy bow at the throat contribute the feminine touches.

At the bottom is a most attractive shirt blouse—it has a charming Peter Pan collar and buttoned panel for the waist closing—the model is made of batiste with either short sports or long bishop sleeves.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1850-B—both blouses—is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. The top blouse requires 1⅞ yards of 35 or 39-inch material for size 16 (34), and blouse (B) requires 1¾ yards or 2½ yards with long sleeves, size 16 (34).

RELIGION IN THE NEWS

(By Rev. Miles Dawson)

A church of interest is the Second Baptist Church (Negro) of Detroit, Mich. On March 18, this church celebrated its 100th anniversary. Back in 1836 twelve slaves began their worship in a church separated for negro worship. During the war period, negroes began pouring into the industrial cities, and Detroit received its share of them. This presented a real problem, and was one of the most trying experiences the North ever met. Not only were the negroes coming from other cities, but hundreds were flocking in from rural and backward sections. And so this new-born church provided a religious opportunity to these new-comers, and helped in a great way to solve many of the problems this immigration presented. The little church of 12 began to grow, until today the church has an active membership roll of 4000. But there is yet another bit of information that will startle you. This is not the only Negro Baptist Church in Detroit. Up to 1910 there were only two, but today there are approximately SEVENTY. Since about 1911, one pastor, Dr. R. L. Bradby, has led his black flock of 4000 members of this great Detroit church.

CALVARY CHURCH SUNDAY SERVICES

At the Calvary Baptist Church, Dawson will speak tomorrow morning on a subject appropriate to Patriot's Day, "Religious Patriotism." The choir will sing at this service. At the 7:45 evening service, the sermon-subject will be "A Deceived World."

The second term of the School of Leadership opened last Monday night and will continue for the following five Monday nights. There is no tuition fee, and all are welcome to attend. The course being taught is "The Seven Dispensations."

NEW COLMA DEPUTY

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, Monday of this week, permission to engage an additional deputy for inspection service in the Colma farm belt and for specific work was given by the Board to Agriculture Commissioner Leonard.

Leonard stated there exists a pressing need for the inspector in the north end to give the Colma region the same service the Coastside has enjoyed for some time past.

LESSON SERMON OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, April 19, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "The preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God" (I Cor. 1: 18). Other Bible citations will include: "My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for our's only, but also for the sins of the whole world" (I John 2: 1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The atonement of Christ reconciles man to God, not God to man; for the divine Principle of Christ is God, and how can God propitiate Himself? Christ is Truth, which reaches no higher than itself. The fountain can rise no higher than its source. Christ, Truth, could conciliate no nature above his own, derived from the eternal Love. It was therefore Christ's purpose to reconcile man to God, not God to man" (pp. 18, 19).

Presbyterian Church Plans Vacation School

Now that Easter has come and gone the Presbyterian Church is laying plans for a successful vacation school to open during the vacation period. Children love to be active and organized activities are a pleasant necessity. So with the coming of the vacation period the children will gather at the Presbyterian Church, when, following a period of worship, the children will enjoy a craft school, when boys and girls will make things useful and otherwise.

The whole purpose of the vacation school is to develop the religious life of the children and combine instruction with play.

ENEMIES OF PRESIDENT MAKE NO HEADWAY

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

I heard a heartening message on the radio last Sunday. A particularly well informed commentator on current affairs said in substance:

"If the presidential election were held today Franklin Roosevelt would win easily. The situation has changed materially since last September, when the President's popularity appeared to be somewhat on the wane. Now he is gaining, with each day, as is admitted even by his most rabid opponents. As much as 54½ per cent of the popular vote would be cast for the chief executive; 26 states are definitely in the Democratic column and 7 in that of the opposition, with the pendulum swinging toward the President in the doubtful ones.

The Rooseveltian plan to tax undistributed corporate profits is meeting with favor everywhere. The original measure has not lost its force, even though certain amendments have been made to it by a subcommittee of the House of Representatives. According to the last draft, the tax will be imposed on the total rather than on the undivided profits and will be low—4 per cent—as long as the undistributted net income is not over 10 per cent of the total, but will rise to 42½ per cent when more than 57½ per cent of the income is undistributed.

That there are some real patriots in the country is shown by the circumstance the committee has withstood pressure from such organizations as the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the National Association of Manufacturers, notably reactionary bodies.

I can easily understand how a weekly publication put this "head" on a letter from a Washington correspondent:

"Employers Against the Government."

But again I say, what does it matter, so long as the youth of the nation, the women, the farmers and the wage earners, are for the President, that 'intrenched greed' is against him?

It is pointed out by the correspondent that employers, at least of the type that join the National Association of Manufacturers, do not know anything about fair play. It was an illuminating incident when a member of one of the President's boards appealed to the Manufacturers' sense of fairness. As is written by the astute journalist, the board member discovered the Manufacturers had none. The officers of the association, taking advantage of the speaker's own sense of fair play to scan his manuscript in advance, prepared an immediate rebuttal.

Powerful publishers and others with well developed egos are shaking in their boots at the prospect of an investgation by the Senate of manifestations of incipient fascism in various states. A resolution directing the Senate Education and Labor committee to make an inquiry into violations of the right of free speech and assembly and undue interference with the right of labor to organize and bargain collectively has been introduced by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin and referred for consideration to a subcommittee.

Hearings on whether the resolution should be adopted are expected to provide an opportunity for taking of testimony on violations of civil liberties.

Forms of fascism practiced by the men in control of some of the universities against professors and students who seek nothing more than a chance to express their views will be investigated, according to present plans.

The opposition to President Roosevelt is organizing a "brain trust" to get "dirt" on the administration. One more specious method of attack on the President is thus lost.

FIRE PREVENTION OIL HEATERS AND STOVES

By Chief A. P. Chesney

Nowadays the use of oil burning furnaces is on the increase and they present several dangers in addition to the ordinary hazards of heating plants. Such furnaces should be installed in accordance with the regulations prepared by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which are too technical and lengthy to be given here.

It may be said briefly, however, that many types of burners on the market are faulty in design or principle; a common fault is for the burner to become clogged with soot and this condition often retards combustion to such an extent that gases accumulate and cause an explosion. Good workmanship in the installation is of vital importance.

The modern oil cooking stove is safe enough when properly installed and maintained but if carelessly operated becomes a real hazard. A stove of this kind should be set up firmly, with legs so adjusted that it is level and secure. The legs should not be propped up with scraps of wood or other material which may be dislodged and cause the stove to upset.

TANFOS PLAY AT SAN MATEO

BLUES NOSE OUT LOCALS

Volkman Scores Twice As San Mateo Wins, 3-2

A freak base hit by Ereno, San Mateo catcher, in the seventh inning gave the San Mateo Blues a victory over the classy Daly City Tanforan nine and a first place in California State League standings, Sunday, at the San Mateo city diamond.

Going into the last of the seventh with the score tied at two up, Stoeven, Blues' first sacker, was out, Hannan to Burke. Tadevich followed with a single and then Ereno hit a blooper down the first base line which took a propitious bounce over Burke's head. Tadevich took third on the play and scored on a fly by Walt Lister, San Mateo pitcher. Had Ereno's hit taken a normal hop, he would have been out and Lister's fly would have ended the inning without a score—but that's the way ball games are won and lost.

PITCHERS' BATTLE

The game was a real pitchers' battle all the way, with Bill Sturtivant allowing San Mateo nine hits while the Tanforans touched Walt Lister for seven safe blows.

San Mateo scored first, when Right Fielder Stewart hoisted one of Sturtevant's throws over the short right field wall for a home run. Not to be outdone, however, Manager Ray Volkman started the Daly City batters off in the third with a hard hit double. Sturtevant followed by beating out an infield hits for a single, and Volkman crossed the plate on a sharp single to centerfield by Kellman.

TWO RUNS BY VOLKMAN

Daly City Tanforan took the lead in the fifth frame when Volkman started off with a single, went to second on Sturtevant's sacrifice, and scored on a double by Mickey Hannan, reliable second baseman. The Blues evened up the count in their half of the fifth, when Tadevich came home on a single by Lister.

The Tanforans had a big chance to rally in the eighth frame, when Kellman started off with a hit and Hannan reached first on a fielder's choice. However, Stoeven, San Mateo initial sacker, picked up Vasquez' bunt and threw to third to force Kellman. Palmini and Hailer failed to hit, ending the scoring opportunity.

ANTI SPEARS "FENCE BALL"

Palmini was robbed of the longest his of the day when he caught hold of a pitch in the second inning and sent it for the left field fence with a home run label on it. But Left Fielder Anti of the Blues raced backward and speared the liner for a putout. Anti also robbed Hannan of a hit in the opening frame with a one handed catch that brought cheers from the crowd.

Both teams played flawless ball behind two great pitching exhibitions. Volkman kept the San Mateto runners close to the bag by zipping the ball down to second to catch ambitious stealers, although Long was credited with a stolen base after being out by three feet when Johnny Vasquez squeezed the ball too hard and dropped it. Sturtevant whiffed five San Mateo batters while Lister sent two Daly City men down via the strike out route.

SHOULD WIN FROM ORINDA REDS SUNDAY

Local baseball fans will be afforded another chance to watch the Daly City Tanforans in action, Sunday when, Ray Volkman's peppery club clashes with the Orinda Reds at the San Mateo city diamond.

Both outfits are new in State League competition, but the Tanforans are rated favorites on season records. The Daly City tossers hold a 7 to 4 decision over Modesto, whereas the Modestans defeated Orinda last week, 3 to 1.

However, Mike Kelly, Orinda pitcher, allowed Modesto only four hits, while the southerners collected ten bingles from Bill Sturtevant two weeks ago.

Orinda made four errors to lose to Modesto and garnered only five hits from Guido Simoni. The Tanforans got to Simoni for five hits and as many runs in one inning.

Sturtevant or Jack Gertsenberg, who has not yet pitched in the State loop, will take up the mound duties for the locals, with Volkman behind the bat and the rest of the line up will probably be the same as in previous games.

The Tanforan batting strength gives them the edge over the Orinda bunch.

SPORT A. C. WINS AGAIN

The Sport A. C. trounced the San Jose Avenue Rookies, 23 to 4, in a one sided game.

The Sport A. C. was out to seek revenge after being defeated four times by the Rookies and they sure got it. They pounded four Rookies pitchers for 23 hits and 15 walks, while their pitcher, "Lefty" Bill Kelley, held the losers in check throughout the game, striking out 17 batters, and he was also the hitting star of the day, getting five hits in as many trips to the plate.

Gene Greene, the new first base man of the team, showed up well, getting four hits, one a double to right field which was the longest hit of the day.

Johnny Johnson, that hard fighting third baseman of the winners, got three hits and played a sensational game at the hot corner.

Sam Lucia also got three hits and patrolled short stop without an error. Every man on the Sport A. C. got one or more hits.

HIGH SCHOOL TOSSERS WIN

Jefferson Nine Trounces Palo Altans, 14-0

Lambasting the Palo Alto High School baseball nine with such vehemence that the peninsula school was literally forced to "throw in the towel" in the seventh inning, Jefferson High tossers continued their quest for a championship by defeating the Paly nine, 14 to 0, Friday. The local preps are now tied for first place in the Peninsula Athletic League standings, holding a previous 3-1 decision over South City High.

JEFF PITCHING GOOD

Bill Strassburger, pitching for Jefferson, held the Palo Altans to three scattered hits, while his teammates garnered 18 bingles from two opposition chuckers.

The winners ,under the tutelage of Coach Al Biggs, former Stanford star, started their scoring in the second frame by virtue of five hits and some cagey base running. Although the game was scheduled for nine innings, Coach Hod Ray of the peninsula nine took pity on his boys and called the contest in the seventh.

Third Baseman George Ragghianti led the locals at the bat, smacking out four hits for five times at bat, while Bill Elder, center fielder, and Catcher Harry Rose each connected safely to get three for four.

GEORGE HAS CLASS

Ragghiatni, who has played with several double A clubs in winter leagues, is easily the classiest player in the high school circuit, but hasn't been hitting as he should. However, he found his eye last week and with a little concentration should keep it.

Jefferson collected ten runs from Leslie, Paly pitcher, who was knocked from the mound in the fourth inning, and four markers from Cissie, who relieved Leslie.

PREPS MEET SAN JOSE TODAY

GAME SET FOR 3 P. M. AT JEFF. DIAMOND

Traditional rivalry will be the feature this afternoon when the championship bound Jefferson High baseballers mix it up with the invading San Jose preps on the local diamond.

For the past ten years these two institutions have battled it out for the supremacy of the P. A. L. baseball division, with Al Biggs' Indians having the best of the bargain by a substantial margin. A San Jose lad himself, Biggs is hoping for a win over his alma mater today.

The San Jose team boast a bunch of hard hitters and a good pitcher in Peters, who faced Jefferson last year. Last season the locals won a close argument, 8-7, and went on to win the championship they are defending this year. Lowe, shortstop, and Paul at first base are only two of the San Jose men who are veterans.

Coach Biggs will start his old mainstay, Bill Strassburger, who hails from Brisbane, on the mound, and figures he can check the invaders. Harry Rose will handle the catcher's post, with Paul Ragghianti on first, little Red Denning at second, Elmer Arthurs at shortstop and flashy Georgie Ragghianti on third base. Howard Petersen, Bill Elder and "Hit and Crawl" Ed Owens fill out the outfield positions.

Game time is set for 3 p. m.

SHAW STARS Nobobs Win HOOP BATTLE

Turning back the Skull A. C. quintet, 46-24, the Nabobs chalked up their tenth win in the Portola Reccreation Center basketball tourney last week.

The Daly City team, undefeated champions in the first half of the league, took an early lead and promptly turned the contest into a rout.

Featuring what was otherwise a dull exhibition was the play of Walt Shaw, forward, and Guards Chet Rundel and Woody Olsen of the home five. Shaw accounted for 22 of his team's points, scoring nine times from the floor and four free throws. The Nabob guards dominated the floor play throughout.

Having drawn a bye this week, the Nabobs will engage the Internationals, another Daly City outfit with much experience, at Balboa gym on Thursday night. Rumor says the game will be a grudge battle for the championship of the city.

SYNOPSIS

The Duke, a pleasant, likable youth of twenty-three, jobless and broke, enters an unoccupied summer home in Southampton, seeking shelter from a terrific rain storm. He makes himself at home. Six years ago his father had died in China, leaving the lad, Barry Gilbert, to fight his way back to the States. He did not recollect ever having had a mother. Dozing at the fireside, he is startled by the arrival of a butler, Willetts; a chauffeur, Evans; a cook and a maid. He learns that the son of the owner of the house, Jack Ridder, whom the servants had never seen, is expected. He decides to bluff it out. His supposed parents have left for Germany. Next morning he is given a letter for his "mother." He opens it and finds a message from the real Jack, saying he could not come, and returning a hundred-dollar bill. The boy's father had pensioned him into obscurity. Barry pockets the money, intending to return it later. He orders Evans to take him to Montauk, intending to disappear there. On the way he assists Judge Hambidge and his daughter, Patricia, whose car had broken down. Believing he is Jack Ridder, she invites him to dinner the following Thursday. Barry returns to Southampton, deciding to stay a bit longer.

He caught Mr. Crowell inspecting the tag sewn onto the back of his waistcoat. Well, that was all right, and, of course, nothing could be wrong, when the trousers were to be sent by parcel post to "John Clarke Ridder, Jr." at Southampton. Before the Duke departed, Mr. Crowell had secured orders for a sack suit and evening clothes. "Charge 'em to my father," the Duke said, and Mr. Crowell answered, "Certainly, and I'll let you know when we're ready to try on."

This procedure, and those following at the haberdasher's and the shoemaker's, ruffled the Duke's conscience far less than the hundred-dollar bill had done. "I'll pay it all back some day," he thought, without asking himself how.

On the return trip to Southampton, it struck him that he'd got a pretty extensive wardrobe for one dinner party. "Well," he argued, "suppose I do stay a month. I might as well be hanged for a sheep as for a lamb, and nothing much can happen before my father's return — unless the real John Clarke Junior changes his mind about writing to Bad Nauheim."

Of course, the Judge might write—to felicitate the old man on having made it up with his boy. What then? That wouldn't tell them that this wasn't the same boy. Still it might be safer to hint to the Hambidges that the Ridders were going to wander about a bit before arriving at their destination.

The Duke leaned back in the Long Island Railway's best parlor car, and opened a newspaper he had bought at the station. Almost instantly, he saw his new friend's name again. "Jefferson Street Condemnation Just Another Grab," the headline ran. "Civic Association Brands Proceedings Before Judge Hambidge as Bare-faced Loot of City Treasury."

"They're certainly making it hot for him," Barry mused.

He wouldn't have read the story, but for its reference to the Judge. Even so, he read it very casually. Somebody wanted to turn a side street into a boulevard. That involved buying a lot of property. And the property owners weren't willing to sell for what the city was willing to pay, so "condemnation proceedings had been instituted"—whatever they might be—and Judge Hambidge was to fix the value of the ground and houses.

"Who really owns this property?" the Civic association asked. The corporation that held title was an obvious stalking-horse. It had been formed, and had purchased the land, and buildings, only a few months before the beginning of municipal interest in Jefferson street. And it was demanding a million and a half for "a few relics of a better day in this neighborhood that would have been dear at half a million." Tammany's paw was visible in the whole transaction, according to the Civic association, and the impending decision called for prompt action from individuals and organizations aware that Judge Hambidge was a Tammany judge.

"Prompt action?" Swell chance! Who cared? Plainly, the tax-payers didn't, and Barry wasn't even a taxpayer. As a couple of million other citizens were to do that evening, he dismissed the whole matter from his mind, and turned the page, looking for a good murder.

Reaching home, he went straight to the library.

The winter covers had been removed from the furniture now, and the place was bright and shining. The Italian box had been filled with cigars. Bending over to get one, the Duke's gaze fell upon an envelope addressed to his other self.

A radio message! His fingers stiffened.

The Judge hadn't waited to write. Damn Marconi! Feverishly, he tore open the wrapper.

"Just to let you know that I am very happy stop couldn't sleep last night for thinking of you home at last stop can't tell your father yet stop please please try to spend summer in such a way as to make reconciliation possible stop praying for word on arrival stop God bless you and love.
"Mother."

For once, the Duke didn't grin.

"She didn't care what it cost," he said, but there was no humor in that comment. He was picturing a hurried, heart-hungry woman, slipping furtively up to the wireless room, and handing in this message herself, so that no steward should unwittingly betray her. The first word she had been able to smuggle to the boy in years. "It's been killing your mother," the Judge had said.

The Duke touched a button, and Willetts came.

"Where's Evans?"

"In the garage, sir. With his wife."

"Ask him to run me down to the village. I want to send a telegram to my mother."

"I can telephone it, sir."

"Thanks; I'd rather hand it in."

"Very good, sir. The car'll be here in a minute or two, sir. And I'll hold dinner."

Barry never thought any harder than he did during that short ride.

What could he say that would make his mother still happier, and yet mean nothing if the message fell into the hands of that hard, old man?

In all probability, his father knew the house had been opened. Must know, since he had forbidden Evans to bring his wife. Well, then, suppose the telegram were signed "Willetts," but contained a reference that would identify the real sender—to her, and to no one else?

A Radio Message! His Fingers Stiffened.

"Radio received," he wirelessed at last. "Will do my best. Writing. Willetts."

She would understand.

The reaction came after dinner. "Maudlin, that's what I am," thought the Duke. "Just because I get a messaged signed 'Mother.' The first one I ever got."

"Damn fool trick — sending that wireless. Sooner or later, she's going to find out it was fake, and then what good will I have done?"

Thursday's dinner started off on the wrong foot.

The Duke wore his new flannels and his old gray coat. It was not a warm evening, but he had nothing else to wear. His father's apparel was much too tight.

He could see Patricia taking him in. She was lovely in cherry-colored crepe de chine, and the Judge immaculate in black tie and dinner jacket. "You said we could fight things out on the tennis court," the Duke apologized, "and I'm afraid that stuck in my mind. The truth is my luggage hasn't turned up, and I had to wear anything I could find."

"You should have worn a strip of bunting, and brought boxing gloves," the Judge laughed. "If you and Pat are going at it as you did at the club."

"What would happen if we agreed about anything?" asked Patricia.

"I'd be wrong, Miss Hambidge; I'd be wrong!"

The retort was no more his own than the shirt on his back, but he was rewarded for it by an appreciative flash in the girl's eyes.

But they couldn't agree.

How was it possible, the Duke asked himself afterward, to be so fascinated by a young woman who opposed his every idea and utterance? And so—well, so cockily. As though it amused her to be irritating.

The girl chattered about everything. Hard-boiled. A modern, and proud of it. Why should people be proud of being "modern"; a state, like kingship, that you achieved merely by being born? And, so far as modernity was a point of view, why preen yourself because you didn't believe in anything except your own right to be happy?

This girl had had no contact with life. Walled about in a pleasant garden, she delivered herself of smart, brittle opinions of conditions she had never experienced, people she had never seen. But you couldn't help liking her. And it began to be evident that she liked him. "You're different, at least," she said. "Different from any other man I know. Really not a bit like a rich man's son."

"I've been on my own a good while," he reminded her.

"Yes," she answered. "You've something to talk about. When my set's through with golf, bridge, the stock market, and the night clubs, it's through!"

Barry learned a good deal about his adopted father that night. And, when Patricia left them for a few minutes, the Judge repeated, "He's certainly no sentimentalist—that gentleman. We're supposed to be friends, and his paper goes on attacking me. The Civic association—that's nothing on earth but The Globe. And now they're all at it. Talking about my taking orders from Tammany. Generally, it wouldn't matter, but this Jefferson street business has got everybody so worked up, it's all a man's career's worth just to be caught nodding to a District Leader."

Barry nodded. "Did you ever speak to the old man?"

"Just a few days before he left. 'I'm running my newspaper for the public,' he said."

"What's the use of stopping one paper?" Patricia inquired, entering the room. "The others would keep right on. Did you ever read any of the things they wrote about Abraham Lincoln? Be a brave old gentleman, and don't let it bother you."

She laughed, but her eyes were very tender as she laid her hands on the Judge's shoulders.

"That's why I like her," thought the Duke. "Because I see what she'd be if somebody scraped off the enamel. She's got the makings of some girl!"

It was after midnight when Barry climbed into his car, calling back, "Remember, you're dining with me next Thursday!"

"You certainly took father out of himself," the girl had remarked to him. "He's been frightfully depressed."

"Let's see a lot of one another," the Duke had rejoined. "I'm lonely as an oyster in a church stew. Why not come to my place next Thursday?"

"All right. And we're having house guests over the following week-end. The Winslows. My mother was Mrs. Winslow's sister. Peter's a prominent lawyer, and it won't hurt you to know him. And I've got an old school friend coming from Boston. Will you dine with us again that Friday?"

"I'll board with you, if you ask me!" Barry replied exuberantly. "But that lets me out," he vowed, on the way home. "This can't go on forever. Something's sure to break, and I don't want it to break anywhere near that girl. What she learns when I'm gone won't hurt either of us, but—Gosh—I'd hate having to face her after she'd found out the truth!"

However, Southampton was not only ruining his "appetite for baked beans"; it was ruining his taste for the open road, and rough-necks.

Standing before the mirror, in faultless evening dress, on Thursday, he thought the thing out. "If I can't get a white-collar job with these clothes, and the new feeling this thing has given me, I'm a wash-out. I'd like to make good now. Darned if I know why, but I would!"

He made up his mind to go to town the next day, and have another try at it. "I'll take a shot at the movie studios," he said. "There ought to be something in heroes for a young fellow who looks like that."

He was still contemplating himself in the glass, with a view to his picture possibilities, when the Hambidges arrived.

On the whole, it was a very successful evening. The Judge seemed even more worried than he had been a week before, but Barry's good humor was irresistible. Patricia had asked about his experience in Florida, and he found himself combining purely imaginary adventures there with anecdotes of park benches and the flop house in New York. He told of arriving, penniless at Southampton and of the providential hundred-dollar bill that came addressed to his mother. Truth and fiction blended so wonderfully, and seemed so real.

The Hambidges went home early, but in much better spirits than they had brought with them, and Patricia paused at the door to remind him of their engagement for the following Friday. "You'll have to come the week after that, too," she said. "My Boston friend can't get here next week, and she's especially anxious to meet you."

Patricia must have written about him, then. By Golly, he would get that job—if only to show her that he could do something better than dance.

It was twenty minutes later before the Duke realized suddenly that the exigencies of the situation weren't going to allow his showing Pat anything but a clean pair of heels.

Barry's first two days in town were fruitless. There weren't many studios in New York, and they didn't seem to be doing much. "Acting isn't a man's job, anyway," said the Duke. "Painting your face, and putting a feather in your hat! I'm going to look over the 'Business Opportunities' in the newspapers."

Most of them were opportunities to part with a little money. But Barry didn't give up hope.

The "Laughing Jackass"

Strangers to Australia may hear what sounds like the braying of a jackass in the woods. Investigation, however, will disclose a sassy-looking, colorful bird on the order of the kingfisher, but much larger. It is the kookaburra, native to Australia, one of the brightest and most mischievous birds living. It is known as the "laughing jackass," because of its braying note, and as the "settler's clock," because it utters its peculiar cry regularly at dawn and at dusk. It eats insects, snakes and small mammals, killing the larger prey by flying high with its victim in its beak and dropping it to destruction.

Failure at home is a failure everywhere. To leave behind in the home, when one goes to one's work in the morning, unhappy hearts or a feeling of relief at one's absence is not a promising sign of power with souls outside.

Nothing so much prevents our being natural as the desire of appearing so. Ople Read put it this way. "The most difficult thing in the world is to be natural."

No Need to Suffer "Morning Sickness"

"Morning sickness"—is caused by an acid condition. To avoid it, acid must be offset by alkalis—such as magnesia.

Why Physicians Recommend Milnesia Wafers

These mint-flavored, candy-like wafers are pure milk of magnesia in solid form—the most pleasant way to take it. Each wafer is approximately equal to a full adult dose of liquid milk of magnesia. Chewed thoroughly, then swallowed, they correct acidity in the mouth and throughout the digestive system and insure quick, complete elimination of the waste matters that cause gas, headaches, bloated feelings and a dozen other discomforts.

Milnesia Wafers come in bottles of 20 and 48, at 35c and 60c respectively, and in convenient tins for your handbag containing 12 at 20c. Each wafer is approximately one adult dose of milk of magnesia. All good drug stores sell and recommend them.

THREE years ago Harvey S. Firestone conceived the idea that farm work would be easier, faster, and more economical if it were done on rubber.

It was on the Old Homestead farm in Columbiana County, Ohio, which Mr. Firestone still operates, that he directed engineers and developed a practical pneumatic tire for tractors and every other wheeled implement on the farm. The result was a super-traction tire so unusual in design and so amazing in performance that a patent was issued on the tire by the United States Patent Office at Washington.

On tractors, Firestone Ground Grip Tires will do the work 25 per cent faster with a saving of 25 per cent in fuel cost. On sprayers, combines, binders and other farm implements they reduce draft 40 to 50 per cent; do not pack the soil, sink into soft ground or make ruts; protect equipment; do not damage crops and vines; speed up every farm operation.

One set of tires will fit several implements. Tires can be changed quickly from one implement to another. Two or three sets are all you need to take care of practically all your farm implements.

See the Firestone Tire Dealer, implement dealer or Firestone Auto Supply and Service Store today—and in placing your order for new equipment, be sure to specify Firestone Ground Grip Tires on your new tractor or farm implement.

READ WHAT FARMERS SAY ABOUT THESE REMARKABLE TIRES

"With my tractor on Ground Grips it has about one-third more power, pulls two sixteen-inch plows in high gear under all conditions."—R. A. Wharram, Stanley, Ia.

"I can move my tractor on Ground Grips from one job to another without the necessity of loading it onto a trailer."—Robert E. Hooker, Highlands, Calif.

"Mine is a two-plow tractor but it pulls three 14-inch plows easily in high gear since I put on Ground Grip Tires."—Frank Warrick, Rushville, Ind.

"Ground Grip Tires give my tractor 100% traction on soft, wet ground."—George State, Minot, N. D.

"Ground Grips save about one-half gallon tractor fuel per hour—show very little wear after two years." — L. R. Love, LaSalle, Colo.

"In doing custom work on Ground Grip Tires I can net $5 a day over the amount earned on steel lugs." — Harold Elsbury, Sutherland, Ia.

UNDER INFLATED TIRES

An under inflated tire will sometimes wear on the sides and appear not to wear at the center of the tread.

This is caused by the side walls of the tire flexing in such a way that the center of the tread folds and bends upward, allowing the weight to be carried on the side or outer portion of the tire.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED AS AID TO OUR SCHOOLS

Public Should Secure Clear Understanding Of Educational Affairs

Public School Week is more than a challenge to teachers to assume the responsibility of acquainting laymen with school activities. Public School Week affords an interesting opportunity to those in the field of education to share with the general public the intimate life of the classroom. Guidance of boys and girls, be they in the kindergarten or the junior college, is a serious obligation. The work may be well done only when the home and the school co-operate fully.

The public has a right to a clear understanding of present day problems. The taxpayer should acquaint himself with school finance. Public funds must be wisely spent so that boys and girls may have the best educational opportunities that the available money can buy. Parents should acquaint themselves with classroom procedure so that they may appreciate the objectives sought by their children. Teachers should acquaint the people in their communities with vital problems facing education.

Public School Week directs the attention of each one of us to the part we should take as teachers, parents, or taxpayers. Let us resolve to be active during the week of April 27 so that we may share in the co-operative undertaking to the end that our boys and girls may benefit. Let us make the seventeenth annual observance of Public School Week a memorable event in our community life.

PLANS FOR WIDOWS AND ORPHANS DANCE

In going over the copy for ads in the program we see quite a few of the Daly City merchants have not yet responded by sending in their copy.

The time is Saturday night, May 9, in Colombo Hall, and we must have the program closed at least two weeks before that date, so you have not much time left.

If you have been overlooked by the firemen, ring up or get in touch with Assistant Chief Bodian, chairman of the program committee.

Everything else pertaining to this affair is progressing smoothly and arrangements are being made to give the residents of Daly City one of the best evenings of entertainment and dancing that has ever been offered in this city.

"MEMORIAM"

In loving memory of Glen Emery, our idolized grandson.
His smiling way and pleasant face,
Are a pleasure to recall,
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him;
Some day, we know not where,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.
Devotedly,
Mr. and Mrs. FRANK EMERY.

RALLY OF COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CLUB

appointment Supervisor Witt was unable to attend.

Mr. Swigert and Mr. Fitzgerald from San Francisco spoke at length on policies of the National Administration and its comparison with the terms of that great leader, Thomas Jefferson.

Congressman McGrath brought a message to all and reaffirmed his belief in our great leader, Franklin D. Roosevelt. His message was enthusiastically received and brought home the necessity for united effort. His record stands as a monument to him and every effort will be expended to insure his return to Washington and continuance of his great work. It can be said without reservation that Congressman McGrath is the greatest representative our district has ever had and deserves the unqualified support of the voters of the Eighth Congressional District. His work in the interests of national defense is to be commended and his efforts in behalf of his district are unquestioned and his loyalty cannot be impugned.

Owen McCue, president of the Young Democrats of San Mateo County, has resigned due to pressure of private business. We regret his loss and efforts are being made to elect another president with foresight and energy to cement a working plan with every other Democratic Club in the county.

"McGrath for Congress" Clubs will be formed throughout the district shortly and the campaign to re-elect McGrath will be in full swing. By the united efforts of all clubs, 1936 saw San Mateo County Democratic for the first time in many years.

The cry today is "On With Roosevelt" and in the Eighth Congressional District let us add "On With McGrath, Too."
